OFFICER TINSLEY FIRED FOR CAUSE

Policeman Stone Given Fifty Dollar Fine for Being Drunk While on Duty.

In line with its expressed determination to maintain the highest discipline compatible with the best interests of the force, the Board of Police Commissioners last night tried three officers on charges, dismissing one and fining the other two.

T. W. Tinsley, of the First District, was charged with being generally inefficient as a police officer, and, after hearing both sides of the case, the board dismissed him forthwith. In the charges made against him it was said that Tinsley participated in a boys' rock battle instead of breaking it up in the usual way, and that he instructed a woman he saw rolling a basketball down the street to remove her kindergarten from the sidewalk. The mother voiced strong complaint, and the matter came to the ears of the higher officials. Tinsley was formerly a member of the Fire Department.

W. R. Stone, also of the First District, was fined $50 for being drunk while on duty. The fine is usually heavier, but Stone has but recently been elected, and the board considered this as a modifying circumstance.

J. A. Baughan, of the Third District (Washington Ward), was fined $2 for leaving the city without a permit. He went only as far as Forest Hill, but he became involved in an altercation there with a man, and was fined afterwards by a magistrate $25.00.

Dismissal of Tinsley created a vacancy, and the board elected J. H. Du Buque, of 415 North Thirty-second Street, in the former's stead. Du Buque is an electrician by trade.

The three men tried last night were all recruits. More charges have recently been preferred and assigned against new men than against the older members of the force, despite the fact that they were thoroughly instructed as to their duties before being assigned to work.

HIRSCHBERG CLAIM AGENT

Councilman Named by Richmond and Henric Railroad.

Councilman John Hirschberg yesterday accepted the position of claim agent for the Richmond and Henric Railroad Company, and will enter upon his duties next Monday. The position was offered Mr. Hirschberg some time ago, but he did not decide to accept it until late yesterday.

He said last night that he had carefully considered the position with reference to his office in the City Council and his affiliations with the Central Trades and Labor Council. Feeling that neither would suffer from his connection with the railway, Mr. Hirschberg stated that he would remain in the Council as representative from Jefferson Ward and continue as president of the labor organization.

REWARD OFFERED

Governor Will Pay for Capture of Paroled Convicts.

Governor William H. Mann offered a reward yesterday in the sum of $150 each for the capture of Oscar Burford and Jack Edwards, two colored men, white men paroled from the State Penitentiary some months ago. It is alleged that about two weeks ago they attempted to rob railway cars at Lynchburg, and when surprised by a patrolman and fireman, shot both men and made their escape. The reward of $100 each for the men, thus making a prize of $500 for the capture of the two.

The case against Dora Mitchell, an aged white woman, arrested Thursday night on a charge of shooting and killing her husband, Dr. C. B. Pearson, a dentist, was continued in Police Court yesterday morning to August 25.

Dr. Pearson's burns were prevented from being serious by the immediate application of alcohol. The woman entered his office with a revolver and fired a shot into his chest. She was taken to the hospital, where she was held until her husband's death. She is believed to be of unsound mind.

INSTITUTE BIDS ARE ALL REJECTED

New Plans Will Be Prepared for Memorial to Confederacy.

COST EXCEEDED RESOURCES

Designs Must Be Modified, at Cost of Two Months' Work.

All bids submitted on the construction of the Confederate Memorial Institute were rejected yesterday at a meeting in Washington of the executive committee of the Confederate Memorial Association. The architects, Messrs. Bissell & Stickler of Philadelphia, were directed to prepare new designs which will be capable of bids within the amount of money which the association has to expend.

Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Elyson, president of the Confederate Memorial Association, returned to the city last night. The other members of the executive committee are General Robert White, Wheeling, W. Va., chairman; Colonel Thomas Kenan, Raleigh, N. C.; Captain J. M. Hickey, Washington, D. C.; and Judge George L. Christian, of Richmond.

EXCEEDED RESOURCES.

When the bids on the construction of the institute were opened on Monday of last week, it was found that the lowest exceeded the sum total of money in hand for the purpose of construction. This was a surprise to the committee, inasmuch as it had been expected that the plans previously adopted would be such that the cost would not be greater than the available cash. Feeling that there is no way in sight in which to secure more money, the committee could not see its way clear to go into debt, and in fact, felt that it ought not to do so.

Probably about two months will now be consumed by the architects in preparing the new plans, in which the building will be so modified in general design as to bring the cost within reach of the association. It is hoped that this can be done without materially reducing the size or detracting from the beauty and symmetry of the structure. The committee regrets that any further delay should have become necessary.

ACADEMY BOOKS BIG ATTRACTIONS

Season Opens on August 29 With Lydia Knott in "The Nest Egg."

NO TALK OF THEATRE WAR

Many Stars in List, Only High-Class Productions Being Sought This Year.

While booking agents are still working to fill every open date, enough attractions have already been signed by the Academy of Music to show that the season beginning August 29 will be one of the most successful in recent years. There is no talk these days about that old war in theatrical circles. Being the first important city south of Washington, Richmond has been recognized as a good field for high-class productions, but producers in New York realize at the same time that worthless attractions, starting southward, will soon starve to death if they fail to win public approval at the Academy. For this reason, the poorer ones stay away, and it is assured that what is offered will be worth the price.

But occasionally a bad one slips in. It slips out again, its head battered and bruised by a criticism it richly deserves, and thereafter it drops out of view.

The Academy season proper begins on August 29 and 30 with "The Nest Egg," in which Lydia Knott will be seen in the leading role. Miss Knott is an old stock company favorite in this city, although she jumped out of that and undertook to put over one of Thomas Dixon's plays. She has hit the Broadway gait, however, and this season she has a play in which she excels.

SOME ALREADY BOOKED.

Although the list is by no means complete, the following plays and players have been booked for the Academy:

MEETING FAVORS SENATOR MARTIN

Gordon Throws New Light on Thompson Letters at Political Rally.

DR. JOHNSTON FOR MARTIN

Senator Folkes Adds Tribute. Jones Scored by Several Speakers.

What he regards as a clear indication that no sinister meaning attached to the new famous J. S. Barbour Thompson letters, used by W. A. Jones in his campaign, was referred to by James W. Gordon in an address before the Martin supporters of Madison Ward, at Murphy's Hotel last night. This was that if Mr. Thompson meant what Mr. Jones says he meant, he would have been guilty of deliberately writing letters which would convict him of bribery or subornation of bribery in any court of law.

"Whatever may be said of Mr. Thompson," said Mr. Gordon, "he was unquestionably a capable and successful business man. Would such a man be foolish enough to dictate letters, using the name of such men as General T. M. Logan and Major E. T. D. Myers, and bring away his copies where they could be stolen? No ward heeler would take such chances."

FIVE ADDRESSES.

The meeting was attended by about 100 citizens, some of them from other wards. Those who addressed the gathering were Dr. George B. Johnston, John A. Lamb, Senator E. C. Folkes, Henry A. Atkinson and James W. Gordon. On motion of Sam Stern, a committee was appointed, which reported resolutions endorsing Senator Martin, and setting forth the assertion that Senator Martin had demanded himself with dignity, courtesy and truthfulness, qualities which had been ignored by Mr. Jones.

PREDICTS MARTIN TRIUMPH.

Dr. Johnston referred to his close personal friendship of thirty-five years with Senator Martin, expressing absolute confidence in the senator's honesty, sincerity and integrity. He said he believed Martin's majority would be larger than it was six years ago, and was convinced from a recent visit to Southwest Virginia that he would get 95 per cent of the big vote there. Dr. Johnston said that the methods of Senator Martin's opponent would be deprecated and properly condemned by the voters, and characterized the attacks of Mr. Jones as "shameful and disgraceful."

DISMISSED FROM MILITIA SERVICE

But Governor Saves Private Wilkerson From Three-Day Sentence in Jail.

Governor Mann yesterday returned to disband General W. B. Sale with his approval the findings in the court martial of Private Woodson E. Wilkerson, Company B, First Infantry, Virginia Volunteers, are approved, and the sentence will be duly executed, with the exception of jail confinement of three days, which is remitted on account of Private Wilkerson having been confined in jail at Richmond for several days pending the disposition of his case.

In accordance with the findings of the court-martial, Wilkerson has been dismissed from the militia. He was accused of disobedience of orders, resisting and threatening to strike a non-commissioned officer and refusing to accompany him to the guardhouse when placed under arrest. The trouble occurred at Camp Sale, Culpeper county, on July 27. Major James E. King was president of the court and Captain Charles M. Wallace judge-advocate.

Wilkerson was found guilty and was fined $8, ordered to be confined in jail three days and dishonorably discharged from the State militia.

WEDDING A SURPRISE

Ernest Straus and Miss Myers Married in Washington.

Ernest E. Straus, son of A. L. Straus, of 911 West Grace Street, senior member of the firm of Straus-Gunst Company, and who is associated with his father, was married yesterday in Washington to Miss Josephine E. Myers, daughter of Mrs. Herman J. Myers, of 2295 West Grace Street.

The wedding was a surprise in Richmond to many friends of a wide circle in which the young couple is known. Only a few of the most intimate friends and relatives were aware of their intentions, and when it was learned that they had gone to the national capital to be married the news was received with much pleasure by many.

Before returning home, Mr. and Mrs. Straus will spend a brief honeymoon in the North.
